WOMAN FOUND STRANGLED IN APARTMENT

Former Lover Chicago Woman Sought For Her Murder

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Search for William Moore, said to be a drug addict and a former lover of Mrs. Jane Stevens, found dead in her apartment, was underway today as the police sought to solve the mystery of the woman's death.

Mrs. Stevens, who came to Chicago from Kansas City, Mo., was found strangled to death. A towel was wrapped tightly around her throat.

A hypodermic needle found beside the bed on which Mrs. Stevens lay indicated the search for Moore, who, the police said, was found, after a check-up, to be the only former lover of the woman that used drugs. Mrs. Stevens, they said, was not a drug addict.

Meanwhile, George Nielsen, a former at the Letz Manufacturing Company plant in Crown Point, Ind., was held for the inquest.

Planned Marriage
He told police Mrs. Stevens was to become the mother of his child and that he had last seen the woman four days ago. They were to be married March 17, he said.

Mrs. Stevens had been dead at least 24 hours when she was found, the police said. The slayer, they believed, entered Mrs. Stevens' apartment at night by a rear window, and finding her asleep, tied a towel about her throat, killing her. The apartment had been rifled, they said, and her pocket emptied of its contents.

The police believed Moore had learned of Mrs. Stevens' intended marriage to Nielsen and, becoming angered, sought revenge in the slaying.

REVEALED BY DOG

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(UP)—The intermittent barking of a Pekingese dog led today to discovery of the body of a woman identified as Mrs. Jean Stevens, 30, of Kansas City, Mo., and Omaha, who had been strangled to death with a towel 24 hours or more earlier.

To neighbors in the apartment where she lived, Mrs. Stevens was known as Mrs. George Nielsen.

Police said that she and George Nielsen, 62, a foundry worker of Crown Point, Ind., had taken the apartment several months ago. Nielsen, they said, told them he had been in the habit of going there each Friday evening and remaining until Sunday evening.

Mrs. Stevens' body was found upon a bed, clad only in underclothing. The towel was knotted tightly around her neck. There was evidence of a struggle. Outside the door of her apartment a hypodermic needle was found, leading to a belief by police that she might have been slain by a drug addict. There was no evidence, they said, that she had used drugs herself.

The body was found by Mrs. Ella Meyers, manager of the apartments, who went there when a neighbor complained that the dog had been barking intermittently for more than a day. The door to the apartment was not locked, Mrs. Meyers said.

Auto Salesman Is Missing With Car

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Police started a search today for Charles W. Mader, 35, an automobile salesman who disappeared last Friday with $300 in cash and an automobile belonging to the company which employed him.

A switchboard operator told police that she heard a man threaten Mader by telephone to kill him if he failed to "come through with that money."

An Illinois farmer has planted 26,000 fruit trees and found that they will grow where corn failed.

CALLS FOR AID CONTINUE: GOOD-FELLOWS BUSY

Way Must Be Found to Care For Needy Of Community

The Goodfellows of Dixon will find a way to take care of unfortunate citizens who are out of work and need fuel and food. Applications for help may be made at the Evening Telegraph office or at the Welfare headquarters over Sullivan's drug store.

The Dixon Nurses Alumni Association has donated five tons of coal and turned it over to the Goodfellows for distribution, which means that ten more families will be kept warm for a while longer at least.

W. H. Flemming, Dementtown grocer, has made a gift of eight sacks of flour of the 24-pound size, to be distributed at the direction of the Goodfellow Club.

Many people are still calling at the welfare headquarters asking for clothing, shoes, etc. If you have some good clothing that you do not need send it to headquarters. Men's trousers and men's rubbers and over-shoes are in great demand.

Cleveland Officer Killed By Gunman

Cleveland, O., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Patrolman James Ryan, 37, died today, the victim of an ex-convict who met him and a fellow officer with a bludgeoning gun when trapped in a west side flat yesterday.

Patrolman John Cleary, who with Ryan had cornered the gunman, was in a serious condition and may be paralyzed for life.

Ryan's killer, police said, was John W. Glasscock, alias Jack McCarthy, 37, who served time at the Joliet, Ill., penitentiary for a bank robbery. He also was wounded, but was expected to recover to face first degree murder charges.

The patrolmen had sought Glasscock as one of a trio who held up a speakeasy. Glasscock dropped Cleary before the officer had a chance to use his gun. The gunman fled to the street, where Ryan, in pursuit, fell mortally wounded. Glasscock, wounded by Ryan, was traced by drops of blood on the snow to a nearby place.

Premier Television Play Given Last Eve

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Side-stepping sinister looking equipment, a small audience squeezed in between humming machinery in the control room of station WEXL last night and watched from behind the scenes what is believed to have been the world's first broadcast of a synchronized sight-sound dramatic production. Irene Winkler, Vinton Haworth and Douglas Hope, in the television broadcast, dramatized "The Maker of Dreams." The special musical score was composed by Sal Stocco.

The effect of the broadcast was relative to a small talkie. Everything possible was done to eliminate noise. The strings of the piano were muffled; voices which were taboo; the men played in stock-worm feet and the girl wore soft sandals. Their costumes were of starchless cotton. Make-up was a thick coating of grease paint with the eyebrows and mouth outlined in a brownish-red.

POLICEMAN, ONCE ACCUSED OF EXTORTION, DISCHARGED YEAR AFTER MAIN WITNESS IS KILLED
Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The case against Police Sergeant William Begley ended yesterday, exactly one year from the date the chief witness against him in an alleged extortion plot, Jean B. Hassewer, was slain in his cabinet manufacturing plant.

Begley was convicted of malfeasance yesterday, discharged from Police Department on a Civil Service order, and fined $2,500.

Four others, charged with aiding in the alleged extortion of Hassewer, pleaded the sale to him of a fake "money making" machine, turned state's evidence and the charges against them were stricken off with leave to reinstate. They are Harvey Robinson of Keokuk, Iowa and John Dobbins, Joseph Yerkes and Howard Hubert, all of Chicago.

The case against Begley was nolle prossed after Hassewer was slain last Jan. 7, but in July he was brought to trial for extortion. Without his star witness, the state, however, was unable to convince the jury, which was dismissed when it failed to agree on a verdict.

Begley and the others were arrested when they walked into a police trap set after Hassewer complained the men had sold him a "money making" machine which turned out nothing but wet pulp and had threatened him with arrest by federal agents for possessing the device unless he paid $500 to "fix" the case.

FOOD SITUATION IN SOUTHWEST IS GROWING CRITICAL

Red Cross Estimates That 250,000 Arkansans Need Help

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 8.—(UP)—More than 250,000 persons in Arkansas will be dependent upon the American Red Cross for food before February 15, Albin Evans, mid-west disaster relief director of the organization, predicted today in an interview with the United Press.

Evans, who has just returned to district headquarters here after a survey of the Arkansas situation, said the disaster resulting from last summer's drought "has yet to reach its peak."

Thousands of families able to care for themselves for several months, now find themselves in serious straits, without jobs, unable to borrow money because of the credit situation, and as winter progresses, faced with asking the Red Cross for food and clothing, he said.

In addition four other critical areas for relief are developing in eastern Oklahoma, the cotton belt of south-east Missouri, the Panhandle of Texas and eastern Kentucky—all areas hard hit by the drought.

"The most critical situation, however, is in Arkansas," he said. "At the present time more than 30,000 families in that state require aid, and are receiving it. We expect the peak to be reached by the middle of next month. I estimate that at that time between 55,000 and 60,000 families will be dependent on the Red Cross for sufficient food to live."

APPEALS INCREASE
England, Ark., Jan. 8.—(UP)—An increasing number of Arkansas farmers appealed today to Red Cross and civic leaders for food to prevent starvation of their families.

"Already we have issued rations to 1,414 families since December 15 in this immediate section and the number dependent upon us is increasing daily," C. E. Hankins, in charge of Red Cross relief here told the United Press.

"At least 50 per cent of our sharecroppers are dependent upon us for food, and are depending upon us for food," he said. "Rations will continue to be supplied as long as we can get them."

"How long that will be I don't know, but there must be outside assistance to prevent spread of starvation. The situation is serious, but there is no doubt about that," he said.

Issues $500 Daily
The Red Cross office here is issuing approximately $500 a day in food requisitions, Hankins said. Yesterday requisitions for 321 families were handed out. The orders averaged about $2 each, he said.

Many farmers and merchants acted in groups and as individuals in sending messages to representatives in Congress urging addition of the $10,000,000 for food loans to the drought relief bill. Business men and farmers in the drought-stricken area are agreed passage of the food amendment would aid materially in alleviating suffering among thousands of farmers.

"Our farmers must have money for food," J. W. Lipscomb, a merchant, said. "The $45,000,000 drought relief appropriation won't help much because it does not provide for food loans to farmers."

"MR. CIPHER" IS BUSY
San Francisco, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Mr. Cipher, San Francisco's counterpart of Manhattan's famous Mr. Zero, was doing a rushing business today as the anonymous humanitarian played host yesterday to more than 1,000 guests at the opening of "The Kitchen" and will have had 3,000 here before another day is out.

The crowd began forming at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the first meal.

Little is known of the founder, except that he holds the view that hungry, miserable men should be fed by the more fortunate.

His identity, he insists, must be a secret. He is 70 years old, described as "comfortably well off."

MAN, WIFE AND BABY FOUND ON ENGINE TENDER

Penniless Couple Attempted To Steal Ride Back Home

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 8.—(UP)—Paul Jackson, 25, a sheet metal worker, St. Louis, Mo., his twenty-two-year-old wife and their four-months-old son, were lifted off the tender of a Chicago & Alton Railroad passenger train here today.

The couple said they boarded the train at Chicago where they were without funds and unable to obtain work and were on their way to St. Louis. Both were thinly clad and appeared to be half frozen. The baby was wrapped in an old bed quilt and apparently was none the worse for his experience.

Jackson declared they had gone to Chicago from St. Louis several weeks ago to get work but had been unsuccessful.

Early today, he said, he and his wife took their child and went to the railroad yards where they climbed aboard the tender of the Chicago & Alton train which left Chicago at 1:00 o'clock this morning.

They were discovered by a train crew shortly after the train arrived here. Not knowing that this was a division point where the train switched engines they had remained on the tender and were found when the engine was uncoupled.

The train crew took the three into the depot where they were given food and their story was investigated.

A telephone call to St. Louis verified their story and Jackson's father-in-law in the Missouri city instructed authorities here to put them on a train and send them to St. Louis, where he promises to take care of them until his son is able to find work.

A welfare organization supplied the funds for their railroad fare and the three were to leave here on a train for St. Louis at 1:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Woman Worked As Steamfitter Years

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A woman who masqueraded for 17 years as a man because, she said, she was unable to find work as a woman, appeared before Judge John H. Lyle on a charge of passing worthless checks.

"I could get no work as a woman, so I put on men's clothes and went to work years ago," she said. "I have worked at men's jobs ever since and held a steamfitter's union card."

Judge Lyle accepted her story that she had been given the checks while out of work by a man who promised to give her the proceeds of every fourth one she cashed, and released her on probation. She promised to make restitution.

Girl And Infant Perish In Flames

Kankakee, Ill., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Suzanna Piggus, 17, and nine-months-old Leslie Moore were burned to death when fire destroyed a store and apartment building at Herscher early today. The Piggus girl was a nursemaid in the home of John Moore, an Indian medicine man. She refused to go down a ladder as she held the child in her arms, and rescuers could not reach her.

FIVE LIVES THE PRICE OF GLORY OF AIR ODYSSEY

The Italian Government Reveals Tragedies At Flight's Start

Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, Africa, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The glory attained by ten Italian seaplanes Tuesday in their transatlantic flight to Natal, Brazil, had its price—five aviators were left behind dead and three were injured. Two of the 14 planes in the squadron were virtually destroyed.

Belated, official announcement has made of the tragedy which attended the elements in the history of aviation, the delay being due to the wish of the Italian government that rejoicing at completion of the flight and celebration of Italy's "Bephani," or second Christmas, not be marred.

As 12 of the planes, in formation of three, took off, one of the red group, piloted by Captain Recagno, crashed from a height of 100 feet. The Sergeant mechanic, Luigi Fois, who was above the right pilot, was killed and the two pilots and the radio operator were injured.

Second Disaster
Ten minutes after the takeoff, the second plane of the white group was forced to alight on the sea at full speed. It took fire and the four members perished. They were Captain Luigi Boer and Lieutenant Danilo Barbicanti, pilots; Sergeant operator Ercole Embastri.

After these two accidents word was flashed to the two replacement planes to take off for Natal. Both came down after crossing the Equator, between St. Paul's Rock and Fernando do Noronha, Brazilian penal colony about 125 miles from Natal. Italian naval vessels stationed along the route took the planes in tow and took them to Fernando do Noronha. After minor repairs have been made the two will continue the flight. No one aboard was injured. One of the planes, commanded by Captain Donadelli, was forced down by a leaky radiator connection, and the other, piloted by Captain Baistrocchi, broke its magneto shaft.

All the dead and injured aviators were among the most renowned of Italy's airmen. The ten planes which reached Natal took a few minutes more than 17 hours to traverse almost 17,000 miles.

ACTRESS AND BOXER ROBBED BY KIDNAPERS

Lita Grey Chaplin And Georges Carpentier Robbers' Victims

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The kidnapping of Lita Grey Chaplin and Georges Carpentier as they left a theater puzzled the police today. Mrs. Chaplin said she was robbed of money and jewels.

Mrs. Chaplin, former wife of Charles Chaplin, and the one time heavyweight champion of Europe told the police they were escorted in her limousine by four armed men, driven more than a mile, and dumped out last night. Mrs. Chaplin said she lost $14,000 in jewelry.

As related by detectives, Carpentier met the actress at a Bronx playhouse at the close of her appearance and they entered her car in a dark alley near the stage door. Two men, appearing out of the gloom, pressed revolvers against the chauffeur, Albert Frank, as he stood beside the car and two more crowded the occupants of the tonneau. Frank then was forced inside and one of the hold-up men drove away rapidly.

Demand Money
During the ride Mrs. Chaplin became hysterical and one of the men quieted her, promising she would not be harmed. Another ordered her to remove her gems but when she did so, he was not satisfied.

"We want some money, too," he commanded.

Fortwith, she opened her pocket-book and handed him the entire contents—$15.

The victims were ordered into the street near in unlighted corner and their assailants sped away in the stolen car. Mrs. Chaplin and Carpentier took a taxicab to their hotels and Frank went to a police station to report the crime. Six hours later the automobile was recovered by police, three blocks from where the occupants were forced out.

The actress listed the stolen jewelry as a necklace, two diamond and platinum bracelets, a platinum ring set with diamonds and sundry ornaments.

Carpentier said he had $30 cash but this was not taken, and he was not asked for money, nor was the chauffeur robbed or harmed.

Youth Gets Life Term For Robbery

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Kansas City, 17-year-old Kansas City, Kan., boy was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Missouri state penitentiary today upon his plea of guilty to a charge of robbery.

Baldwin was described by police as one of a juvenile underworld here led by Everett Haldiman, 17, serving a life term in the Kansas state penitentiary for the murder of a Tyro, Kan., filling station operator.

An assistant prosecutor laid before Judge Clarence A. Burney, a signed statement attributing to Fern McNabb, who was arrested with Haldiman in Dallas, Tex. The statement said that Baldwin had driven a car from which he and 14-year-old McNabb girl watched Haldiman murder William Price, bakery driver, in a Kansas City holdup.

Baldwin denied the accusations in the statement.

"You appear an extremely cold blooded young man," Judge Burney said in passing sentence.

Bill To Modify Jones Law Passed

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Stobbs bill to modify the Jones dry law was passed finally today when the House agreed to minor Senate amendments.

It now goes to the President. The measure has the approval of the Wickersham Commission and Attorney General Mitchell. It sets up a category of minor offenses involving less than one gallon of liquor.

It fixes a maximum penalty of a $500 fine and six months imprisonment for first offenders.

The measure was an outgrowth of the Wickersham proposals to relieve court congestion, and permits juryless trials of minor liquor offenders.

No record vote was taken.

GIRL ENDURANCE FLIERS WAITING FOR STORM END

Imperial, Calif., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Two anxious young women who have been flying around for nearly four days in a cabin monoplane soared over here today, waiting for a break in the weather to return to Los Angeles, where they started their flight to break the world endurance refueling record.

The sooner Bobbie Trout and Edna May Cooper get back to Los Angeles, the lighter their hearts will be. They were forced to fly here late yesterday when a severe storm hit Los Angeles. If they are forced to land here, their flight, which at 9:30 a. m. had set a women's sustained flight record of 91, will have been in vain. To claim a record they must land where they started.

Daybreak in Imperial Valley brought rather murky weather but it was far better than that prevailing over Los Angeles, where heavy clouds intermittently showered rain. Despite this, the fliers announced they planned to return to Los Angeles about noon.

SLAYER UNDER ARREST SINCE DEC. 31, CLAIM

Lee Brothers, St. Louis Gangster, Identified They Say

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Leo V. Brothers, 32, a six-foot, three-inch gunman from St. Louis, was charged by State's Attorney John A. Swanson today with the murder on last June 9 of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Tribune reporter.

"If Brothers did not kill Lingle, then Lingle is still alive," declared Pat Roche, Swanson's Chief Investigator, in expressing his absolute confidence that Chicago's most famous murder mystery at last was being definitely cleared up.

"He has been positively identified by several witnesses," added Swanson, "and he will be indicted. There is no question that he was the killer."

The prosecutor refused to name the witnesses or disclose any of the evidence against Brothers, who has lived in Chicago under the name of Louis V. Bawer. Swanson explained that some minor angles of the mystery still were to be solved and that other arrests probably would be made. There was no doubt that the officers believed Brothers was hired to commit the murder.

Arrested Dec. 21
Brothers has been under arrest since last Dec. 21, Swanson disclosed to a large delegation of newspapermen whom he called to his office just before last night.

For weeks before the arrest, the prosecutor said, his men worked in a dozen cities, piecing together bit by bit the evidence that identified Brothers as the killer.

Brothers, meanwhile, was living in Chicago, where he fled in July 1929, after he was named as the killer of John De Biasi, a service car driver, in St. Louis.

So secretly was the work of the State's Attorney carried on that not even Brothers' own intimates, to whom he was known as "Buster," knew that he was being shadowed. His arrest came in a dramatic manner early Dec. 21 as he left the $12 a week room where he had lived for months.

Decorates Friend's Grave Thirty Years
Nebraska City, Neb., Jan. 8.—(UP)—A wilted bouquet of red carnations on Carl Morton's grave bore evidence today that Frank Morse, now 82, has kept his pledge throughout the years.

More than 30 years ago, Morse met Morton, the son of J. Sterling Morton, former Secretary of Agriculture and founder of Arbor Day. Morse admired a red carnation which Morton was wearing.

"When you die," said Morton, "I'll put red carnations on your grave each anniversary of your death."

"If you die first, I'll do the same for you," Morse answered.

Morton died a short time later of pneumonia.

"This may be my last trip," said Morse yesterday as he walked, a bit unsteadily, away from the grave which annually he has decorated for 30 years.

FREEZE BRINGING PERFUME

WINTER has stripped of bloom both moor and field;

Naught lives, and on the grey rocks of the cave,

Where breaks the Atlantic's unrelenting wave

Hangs the sere leaf the last stem will not yield.

And yet, what subtle perfume has unsealed

From wind and sea, the odor that I crave,

Stirring me strangely with the breath it gave?

Whence came this scent that to my heart appealed?

Ah, now I know! From the far West it came,

blue Antilles

Three thousand miles, where the Swoon with the burning stars above their strand;

And I, whom this wave-beaten shore may claim,

Have caught an olden fragrance on the breeze

From garden roses of my native land.

—Jose-Maria de Heredia, in "The Tropics, with Other Sonnets."

Translated by John Myers O'Hara and John Hervey.

Francis Bushman Back On Stage

On Saturday evening, January 3 Miss Jane Buchanan of Walnut entertained 10 young people at her home. Miss Inez Langford and Miss Allen Strouss were assistant hostesses. Whist and dancing were the diversion of the evening and proved to be real entertaining to everyone. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, after which all departed for their homes.

Fruit cakes improve with age if they are stored in an air tight place. They should not be covered with frosting as the frosting will harden and become stale before the cake has really "ripened."

The individual pumpkin pies can be baked in deep muffin pans. When cool and ready to serve mark features with whipped cream, on top each pie and fasten tiny frill of fringed orange crepe paper around "neck" of pie.

Mrs. Armour, Again Rich, Has New Home

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, once again a wealthy woman of more than $8,000,000 received from an oil company investment of her late husband, was in a new home today.

The move into more desirable quarters was made yesterday following her good fortune in an oil company deal in which she turned over Oil Products Company. The controlling interest was purchased by the Shell Union Oil Company and the Standard Oil Company of California for $25,000,000.

In the meanwhile "Carbon Petroleum" Dubbs, who perfected the oil cracking process which the Universal company sponsored, and who $3,582,045 as his share in the transaction, explained just how he got his names. His father, Jesse A. Dubbs, greatly interested in chemistry, called his son "Carbon" when he was born. Later his name became confused with of his brother, C. A. Dubbs, so someone suggested he add a middle initial. This he did, choosing a "P" which associates in the universal company lengthened into petroleum.

Dubbs lives in Wilmette, a Chicago suburb.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS TO MEET THIS EVENING

The regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Union hall. A good attendance of the membership is desired.

Debs at Capital Start New Dance; It's Walkie-Talkie

Washington.—(AP)—The walkie-talkie is the latest dance step devised by a group of capital debutantes.

Its basis is the fox trot, but it is such a denatured trot that it is scarcely associates its languid, elegant movements with jazz.

It was evolved as a fitting accompaniment to the new long, demure-looking gowns. The deb and her partner take a few sauntering steps, then unclasp hands. Their hands dangle aimlessly in the air as the owners become apparently absorbed in conversation.

The trick, on the girl's part, is to look so interested at her partner's remark that she completely forgets that she had hands or feet. The girl, big-eyed, entranced, literally hangs upon what her partner is saying as he supports her with one arm.

Suddenly the music rolls the dance, and she returns with a bounce from her soulful contemplation of the ceiling. Her partner whirls her around until her long skirts make a sweeping circle of color.

Katrina McCormick, daughter of Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, and her set are sponsoring the "walkie-talkie." To do it a girl must do triple duty—a dancer, a listener and small-talker.

Calls Encyclical Insult To Woman

New York, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Margaret Sanger, widely-known advocate of birth control, today characterized portions of the Pope's encyclical as "an insult to the intelligence of women."

She referred to the section that said birth control was not justified on economic ground or on the plea excessive child bearing is detrimental to the health of women and said she believed "even Catholic women will resent that."

"The encyclical sounds like something that might have come out of the Vatican in medieval times," Mrs. Sanger said.

Dixonites Attend Music Convention

Dixon will be well represented at the meeting of the Civic Music Association in Chicago today, tomorrow and Saturday, the following members of the Dixon branch having announced their intention of attending the convention: Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Alexander, Mesdames William D. Thompson, F. E. Moore, Lloyd Davies, Lester Wilhelm, T. J. Miller, Jr., Wilbur Hart, Charles Todd, L. Dement, Eustace Shaw, H. U. Bardwell, Warren Murray, George Shaw, Geoffrey Furlong, Harry Roe, Gordon Overstreet, Sam Stanfield and Edward Valle, and Miss Clara Armstrong.

Mrs. John Charters of Ashton and Mrs. Gus Phelps of Sterling, also members of the Dixon association, will also attend.

IDEAL CLUB MET WITH MRS. CLYMER

The regular meeting of the Ideal Club was held at the home of Mrs. Owen Clymer, 106 E. Chamberlain St., with Elizabeth Hiller as hostess. The business of the meeting was disposed of by the president, Ada Goeke, after which the members responded to roll call with "New Years Sentiments."

Lulu Grover read a paper on "Famous Writers of Hymns," which was very interesting and ably given. Anna Street presented the current events. Tasty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Fulton. Two guests were present: Mrs. Sarfield and Mrs. Harms.

Girls and Boys To Review Films

New York, Jan. 8.—(UP)—The National Board of Review of motion pictures today announced that hereafter a group of boys and girls between the ages of 16 and 18 would be included in the persons who review all films. From 60 to 100 high school pupils from communities in and around New York will be taken into the groups.

UNUSUAL PLANT IS SEEN AT HAZELWOOD

An unusual plant has been added to the collection at Hazelwood, the estate of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Walgreen—a camelia, recently received from Seattle, Wash. The plant is nine feet high with wax-like green leaves, similar to those of holly, and it is now budding. It will blossom with big red flowers in the spring.

Garden Expert To Address Woman's Club On Saturday

On Saturday at the Christian church the American Home and Garden Department of the Woman's Club will present J. R. Foote, Connoisseur of Gardens, of Winnetka, Ill., who will lecture on "The Lure of the Rock Garden."

Mrs. O. E. Goeke and her committee feel that this is an opportune time for such a subject, as magazines and seed catalogs are reminding all lovers of flowers that it is time to plan the outdoor garden.

That Dixon people are following the old English custom of making their back yards as attractive as the front was evident last year when hundreds of people made the garden inspection tour.

The many quaint and unique beauty spots revealed that much time, interest and skill had been expended upon them.

In order to promote this worthy hobby the City Park Board is offering this year $50 in prize money to be awarded for the most outstanding gardens.

The Garden committee of the Woman's club is working with the City Park Board and their detailed plans will be published later.

Mr. Foote will have some fascinating and worth while suggestions to offer and it is hoped that a large number will be present to hear him.

Non-members are welcome but the usual guest fee will be charged.

Francis Bushman Again On Stage

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The outlying Keddle theater on the west side is far out of the route of the night theater crowd, but Francis X. Bushman, matinee idol of 15 years ago, had a star on his dressing room door and he is "doing the work he loves."

The Tribune quoted him today, as saying he was "broke, not a penny left of the $50,000.00 to $90,000.00 he earned since he became the first star of the old Essanay Studios on Argyle street here in 1914, in the pre-Hollywood era of motion pictures."

Following the filming of "Ben Hur" in Rome in 1914, he was blacklisted by the major picture firms, he said. Beverly Bayne divorced him in 1925, lawyer fees and alimony left something of his fortune, he said, but he lost "every cent" in the stock market crash of 1929. Now he is at work again, in a stock company. He will be 47 years old Saturday.

Brown Shoes for Men in Spring

Detroit, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Brown shoes for men are coming back this spring, and they will be worn in the evening as well as the day, according to stylists of men's shoes, who are attending the National Shoe Dealers Association convention here.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF by ALICIA HART

© 1931 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BY ALICIA HART

The kind, the place and the girl are all to be considered in this thing called "rouging," this winter.

After you have picked the kind of rouge you want, and the color, just where you place it on your cheeks is most important. The amount you can use with impunity depends upon the type of girl you are—vivid, pale, dainty, exotic, vibrant.

If you have the normal oval face, apply your rouge in triangular fashion. Draw a little triangle with it from the temple to the lower cheek and then to the ear and up again. Apply it with the third finger of your right hand, either in little dots that you can blend in, or trace small lines with it. Blend it with the second finger.

The brightest tint should appear right where your own coloring would be, in the center of each cheek when you fill your mouth with air and just before you blow it out.

If you have a long, thin face, you can take your pick and make it look rounder by placing your rouge lower on your cheeks, even shading the palest tone clear down to your chin. Or you can enhance the interesting length of your face by applying it even higher than the usual oval placing.

To Lengthen the Face

If you have one of those nice round, chubby faces, but always have resented it and wanted it slender, try rouging high on the cheekbones, just below the eyes, and taper it over towards the nose instead of out towards the ears.

The amount of rouge you need depends on a lot of things. Some skins absorb rouge—the oily skins—and they need more rouge and a retouching with the compact during the day or evening, if you are dancing. If you are wearing an off-the-face hat, you will need less rouge than if you are wearing a brimmed hat that throw shadows on your face and deadens the rouge effect.

The size of your eyes has something to do with the amount of rouge you use too. If you have beautiful, big, dreamy eyes, you can afford to use more rouge than if they are small. If you are a little person, over rouging may reduce you to a mere nothingness. Rouge should complement you, not stand in your way of being yourself.

Last but not least, apply a bit of rouge to your chin, and just touch the earlobes with rouge, especially if you wear your hair behind them and are addicted to earrings. Nothing more bewitchingly feminine than this little touch for evening wear. It is out of place in the daytime, however.

Philharmonic Soc. Was Entertained

Miss Mertice Hammond entertained the members of the Philharmonic

Society at her home on Brinton Ave. Tuesday evening. An interesting paper on "Bach" was presented by the hostess, following which Anne Davies gave a review of the opera "Camille." Plans for the concert, sponsored each year by this society, were made by the meeting which was terminated with the serving of tempting refreshments.

LEGIONNAIRES GUARD BANKS

Trenton, Mo.—(UP)—Banks in Trenton, Mo., are taking no chances of holdups during the holiday season. Armed legionnaires, commissioned as deputy sheriffs, have been posted in the three banks of the town. J. N. Martin, chairman of the bankers committee which sponsored the arrangement, said steps would be taken to organize a permanent vigilante committee here.

It has been discovered that smugglers are exporting gold from Mexico.

WOMEN JUDGE WOMEN.

In Chicago the other day six women sitting on a coroner's jury ordered a woman held to the grand jury on a manslaughter charge. And while there was nothing unusual in the decision, because women have given a decision against a woman before, the old question as to whether the sisterhood plays fairer with its own members than men would comes up again.

Women were loyal to one another during the days when they campaigned for the franchise, which eventually gave them the rights which they deserved. No one has reason to believe that they are unfair now. In fact, it might be just the other way.

Women, it would seem, do their duty as they see it more clearly than men. They dispense justice. Men temper it a little more with that famous milk or human kindness. The quality of their mercy isn't strained.

Women, as a rule, have a conscience which is guaranteed not to shrink, fade or run in the wash. They do their duty as they see it. They render their decisions regardless.

But men are more lenient. Perhaps it is because they have been in the marts of the world a little longer and understand the intricacies of its windings a little better.

Women are known as tender-hearted creatures. They are, of course, but when duty is on the other side of the scales they don't put their hearts in the balance so often.

Men pretend to be adamant, Gibralters of strength, but more than one rock has been moved by a deluge of feminine tears. Perhaps it is because one woman knows the wiles of another woman, for she has the same reactions and defenses, that women are accused sometimes of judging more harshly.

When it comes to legislation on behalf of women and children, the suffering—anything which will better conditions for humanity and make for domestic happiness—it is the united womanhood, not manhood, which advances and achieves the most successful legislation.

The franchise was supposed to make men and women into political equals, recognized by the general name of citizens.

But it can't. For a woman is a woman, and a man continues to be a man in spite of the woman's vote.

THE MERGER THAT FAILED.

It is altogether too early to tell whether the court decision throwing out the billion-dollar merger of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. with the Bethlehem Steel Corp. is the end of a campaign or just another battle in a long struggle. Bethlehem Steel does not ordinarily give up after one defeat; on the other hand, the fall in the prices of steel stocks since the merger was first planned has led some observers to believe that many who were enthusiastic for the merger before will be much cooler towards it now.

At any rate, just at present the honors seem to go to Cyrus Eaton, the middle western steel magnate who has fought what is so far a successful fight to preserve the autonomy of a large middle western industry. Those who have the traditional fear and distrust of Wall Street will probably rejoice with him at the rebuff that the courts have given to Wall Street's plan.

TOO MUCH FOR THE NAVY.

It seems just a little too bad that the Naval Academy found itself unable to get along with the inventive genius of that young Kansas midshipman who monkeyed with the wires on elevators, clocks and similar academy devices so that he could control all of them from his own room.

Of course, his action was doubtless highly subversive of discipline, and a military school must have discipline if it has nothing else. Just the same, there is something rather appealing about the young man. The inventive faculty that he displayed surely ought to be valuable to the navy, some day; and any man who can play pranks with such a stern and august institution as the United States Naval Academy must have an intrepidity and a dash that ought to carry him a long way.

Said Clowny, "Gee, I wish I had a chance to make that elephant glad. I mean a bag of peanuts. He would like them mighty well." And then another Tiny said, "Well, why not feed him bits of bread? Of course he may not like it, but we'll try. Then we can tell."

The elephant slunk down to rest and Clowny cried out to the rest, "I'm going to do the feeding. Get some bread out of our truck. I'll break it into pieces and just let him eat out of my hand. I hope that he won't bite me. I am game to trust to luck."

Wee Scouty ran and got the bread. The elephant held up his head and reached out with his wiggly trunk and gobbled it up quick. Said Scouty, "He seems very pleased. They're always nice when they're not teased. The way his trunk picks up the bread is really pretty slick."

A native then came up. Said he, "Please take some good advice from me and don't feed Mister Elephant too much. 'Twill make him ill." "All right," replied one of the bunch. "We'll act according to your hunch." And thus they ended what had been an interesting thrill.

A voice then rang out very loud. "Come on here, Tinymites, please crowd back into our old truck again. We'll soon be on our way. I trust that we will not get lost. Another big bridge must be crossed." It was the Travel Man who spoke. The Tinymites cried, "Hurray!"

They reached the bridge and there they found a lot of natives hanging 'round. "The bridge is weak," said one of them. "We'll fix it up for you." The Tinymites watched them work a bit and soon the bridge was fixed up fit. A native then cried, "Go ahead! It's safe to drive right through."

BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS

On Jan. 8, 1815, the last battle of the War of 1812 between the United States and Great Britain was fought at Chalmette, near New Orleans.

After failing to batter down the American lines by a cannonade, the British, under Maj. Gen. Sir Edward Pakenham, decided to try an assault which was made the morning of Jan. 8.

The British attacked with spirit but were met with such a heavy cannonade and with such a storm of bullets from the rifles of American

A. G. (PAT) MAYSE, PUBLISHER OF THE PARIS (TEXAS) MORNING NEWS, SAYS:

"That although it is often said in such a manner as to imply originality, there is perhaps no town in which some one has not said, 'What this town needs is a few first class funerals.' I have never and do not now agree with the expression. The foundation of the civilization we now enjoy and the progress our cities and towns have made have been brought about through sacrificial contributions of time and money of our pioneers. We applaud a man while he is in active civic service, but it is strange to observe how quickly we forget men who have worked in the past.

The present generation gives no credit to the men who cleared the timber, beat out the paths, built the fences, cultivated the soil and erected our first schools and churches. Those men recognized the responsibility of citizenship and met their duties in a noble way.

I heard it said not long since of an elderly man that he was "an old tightwad who never did anything for the town." Yet I happen to know that no single citizen of that particular town has contributed as much in money and in time as that good man has given. It is true that with the passing of the years some men cannot keep time with the rapid step of progress, yet their hearts are right and most of them, even now, are doing more than they get credit for.

No, most of our towns do not need a few first class funerals. Rather they need a re-birth of the hardihood, loyalty, courage, foresight and stability of men who have gone on before. We need fewer men, yet comparatively young, to stop saying that they have "served their time" and who are always willing to "let George do it." THE NEXT TIME YOU HEAR SOMEBODY SAY, "WHAT THIS TOWN NEEDS IS A FEW FIRST CLASS FUNERALS," CALL THEIR HAND AND CHECK UP THE RECORDS.

Vigilante's Slayer Made Guilty Plea

Tipton, Ia., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Wayne S. Kile pleaded guilty to first degree murder in the slaying of Robert G. Sproat, Tipton vigilante, when the trial opened here today. Sentence is expected to be pronounced tonight or early tomorrow. The day is half spent in hearing evidence to determine degree of guilt.

Sproat was shot with a machine gun August 8 as he and two other officers attempted to stop the car in which Kile and two companions were believed to be escaping from a Daventry robbery. Kile was arrested Sept. 2 at his home in Canton, O., after a nationwide search by Iowa officials. Officials said Kile signed a statement that he was in the rear seat of the car and that he fired at Sproat through a curtain.

The three bandits after slaying Sproat commandeered an automobile from Robert Moore, a farmer, and forced him to accompany them. Moore later told how they had driven through eastern Iowa all day, crossing the Mississippi river at Dubuque late in the afternoon. At East Dubuque, Ill., Moore was released with the warning not to report to police for at least an hour. He drove to Maquoketa before notifying authorities.

A description of the men furnished by Moore and other descriptions given by witnesses in a Gelane, Ill., restaurant helped locate Kile.

Northern New York Hit By Blizzard

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Jan. 7.—(UP)—One of the most severe blizzards of recent years swept northern New York today.

Snow has fallen almost incessantly over a great part of the section for more than 24 hours, and there were few indications that the severe weather would abate.

Huge drifts blocked roads to the north, paralyzing motor traffic. Tourists who arrived from southern points said many roads in that region also were impassable.

Scalded By Step-Father, Kills Him

Chicago, Jan. 7.—(UP)—John Pulio, 22, had been unemployed for 22 months and became angry when his step-father, Anthony Indelicato, 52, chided him about it.

At the height of the quarrel, Indelicato took a kettle of boiling water from the stove and threw it over the younger man. Painfully scalded, Pulio obtained a pistol and began firing.

Indelicato died of bullet wounds. The step-son was recovering in Bridewell hospital today from severe burns.

Kidnaper Says He Will Plead Guilty

St. Louis, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Charles Abernathy, Negro real estate dealer, told reporters today that he intended to plead guilty of kidnaping 13-year-old Adolphus Busch Orthwein on New Year's Eve at the entrance to the Huntleigh village country place of his father, Percy J. Orthwein.

"Even if I get the rope I'm going to do it," he said.

At present the only charge against him is kidnaping, but Prosecuting Attorney Castien is considering issuance of a warrant against the Negro for highway robbery, and if he proceeds under the Henry law, capital punishment is the maximum. Kidnaping for ransom is also a capital offense in Missouri.

Girard, Kan., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Clyde Dewberry, a Negro, who pleaded guilty to extortion charges today, faces a penalty of one to ten years imprisonment. He admitted writing threatening letters to E. Haldeman-Julius, Girard publisher, in an attempt to obtain $50.00.

Wickersham Body Again Recesses

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The Wickersham Law Enforcement Committee recessed unexpectedly today, until Jan. 14.

Secrecy was maintained as to whether this meant the long-awaited report on prohibition, now virtually complete, was ready for submission to President Hoover, or whether it would be further deliberated upon next Wednesday before being taken to the White House.

There was no indication at Commission headquarters that the report already had left the hands of the members.

The commission met for less than two hours today. No reason was given for the recess. Only eight of the 12 members were present.

HEAD OF STATE TAX BOARD HAS QUIT HIS POST

William Malone Resigned
To Be Candidate for Governorship

Springfield Jan. 8.—(AP)—William H. Malone of Chicago, a member of the State Tax Commission since 1921 and Chairman since 1926, has resigned, giving as his reason the fact that Governor Emmerson "failed to make" the recommendations submitted by the State Tax Commission in his biennial message to the legislature.

Malone, appointed by former Governor Len Small, sent his resignation by letter from Chicago shortly after the Governor read his message to the General Assembly. He closed by saying he would be a candidate for governor in 1932.

Governor Emmerson said he would appoint no successor to Malone at this time. There were strong indications at the statehouse that Omar N. Custer, retiring State Treasurer, would be named.

Malone referred chiefly to his recommendations that tax assessments be put on a full value basis by 1931 and that the legislature reduce all rates so that when assessments are placed on this basis the increase will not produce a surplus of revenue.

Malone's resignation was the outstanding development in legislative circles as the legislature opened its present session.

The Senate wasted no time in tackling two of the main issues confronting the law makers—those of prohibition and taxation.

Senator Earl B. Searey, (Rep.) of Springfield, introduced two resolutions, one advocating federal control of liquor and amendment of the 18th amendment so as to abolish absolute prohibition, and the other asking a joint legislative committee on appropriations and expenditures in state departments, counties and municipalities.

A bill for repeal of the Illinois liquor laws of June, 1919 and June, 1921, was next presented by Senator McDermott, (Dem.) Chicago.

Senator Searey's resolution on the liquor question charged that both state and national prohibition had failed. His resolution on taxation said that a survey of expenditures may reveal ways of reducing tax burdens.

Senator Harold Kessinger (Rep.) of Aurora, proposed that a constitutional convention, to be approved by referendum at the next general election, be called.

A resolution memorializing Congress to provide for immediate cash payment to World War veterans of the cash surrender value of adjusted compensation certificates was offered by Senator Epler C. Mills, (Rep.) of Virginia.

Showing Motor Club's Road Program

Here is the radial highway widening plan which the Chicago Motor Club will ask the state to adopt for 1932 and '33. The broken lines indicate highways which the club recommends for widening to forty feet; the solid lines indicate radials already widened to forty feet, or to be widened this year.

Drafted after long and careful research, the Chicago Motor Club plan for radial highway widening and grade separation construction in the far flung Chicago metropolitan area during 1932 and 1933 will be introduced in this session of the Illinois legislature.

The motor club plan provides for the widening of 798.7 miles of radial highways and the construction of fifty-five grade separations. Eleven radials beyond state route 22 are included. These would connect with forty-foot strips within route 22, some of which are completed, while others are to be widened this year. Following is a summary of the radials which are now widened or will be widened or built in the metropolitan area by the end of this year:

- Ill. 57—This, combined with Ill. 22, will be known as the Skokie highway and will extend from Chicago to Lake Forest.
- Ill. 21 (Milwaukee avenue)—From Chicago to Halfday.
- Ill. 60 (Rand road)—From Chicago to Euclid avenue east of Arlington Heights.
- Ill. 19 (Northwest highway)—From Chicago to Barrington.
- Ill. 5 (Lake street)—From Chicago to Elgin.
- Ill. 64 (North avenue)—From Chicago to St. Charles.
- Ill. 6 (Roosevelt road)—Chicago to Geneva.
- Ill. 18 (Ogden avenue)—Chicago to Aurora.
- Ill. 4 (Joliet road)—Widened now from Chicago to Willow Springs road. Possibly may be widened to Joliet by end of the year.
- Ill. 49 (Governor's highway)—From Chicago to Kankakee.
- Ill. 1 (Halsted street)—From Chicago to Chicago Heights.

Following is a summary of the motor club's plan for extending this system of four-lane highways in 1932 and 1933:

- Ill. 68—From the Skokie highway to the Wisconsin state line.
- Ill. 21—From Halfday to the Wisconsin state line.
- Ill. 60, combined with Ill. 20 and Ill. 61—From Euclid avenue, east of Arlington Heights to the Wisconsin state line.
- Ill. 19, combined with Ill. 23—From Barrington to the Wisconsin state line.
- Ill. 5—From Elgin to three miles west of Freeport.
- Ill. 6—From Geneva to two miles west of Sterling. This will serve as an extension of Ill. 64.
- Ill. 19—From Aurora to Mendota.
- Ill. 4—From the point where widening operations cease in 1931 to Springfield.
- Ill. 7—From Joliet to the intersection with Ill. 29; Ill. 29 to Peoria, and Ill. 24 to Pekin.
- Ill. 25—From wide Ill. 49 at Kankakee to three miles south of Champaign.
- Ill. 1—From Chicago Heights to four miles south of Danville.

In addition to these routes, the plan of the club also provides for section of widening in other large centers of population, such as Rock Island, Peoria and other cities.

The club has carefully estimated the income which it estate will receive for highway purposes in 1932 and '33 and the possible expenditures during those years. Following is a summary of the income and expenditures for those years:

Income, 1932 and 1933
License fees	$ 40,000.00
Gas tax (state's share)	42,200.00
Federal aid	10,000.00
Unappropriated surplus income for gas tax, 1929, 1930 and 1931	12,827.00

Total estimated income $105,027.00

Expenditures, 1932 and 1933
Principal and interest on bonds	$ 16,560.00
Maintenance and policing	8,000.00
Refund to counties	4,250.00
(15-D)	4,250.00
Construction of bond issue roads (1.101 miles)	37,817.00
Widening 798.7 miles of radial highways	39,000.00
Building of 55 grade separations in metropolitan area	6,400.00

Total estimated expenditures $105,027.00

"It will be seen at a glance that the motor club widening and grade separation plan can be accomplished in the ensuing two years without any increase in present rates of motor vehicle taxation and without causing any delay in the completion of the bond issue highway programs," declared Charles M. Hayes, president of the club.

"It is estimated that the annual cost of congestion to the country at large is two billion dollars, or an average of $80 per year for each motor vehicle owner. Inasmuch as this figure is based on average nationwide conditions, the cost to car owners in acutely congested areas, such as the vicinity of Chicago, is in reality far greater.

"Another feature of the motor club's plan is that completion of it is sought, so far as possible in time for the Chicago Century of Progress exposition in 1933. One phase that will go far toward making the fair an outstanding success is adequate highway facilities for the benefit of the vast number of visitors who will come by motor."

TWO PLANES FELL YESTERDAY; TOLL WAS FIVE LIVES

Three are Killed In Crash
In Texas: Two Die
In Oklahoma

Marshall, Tex., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Wreckage of an airplane which bore three men to death was scattered today about a clearing in a densely wooded area eight miles west of this city, tortuous roads hampering an investigation.

The plane crashed in a fog yesterday, the second fatal air accident in a week in the forests of East Texas. Arthur C. Brown, New Orleans pilot; Errett Williams of New Orleans, co-pilot; and Robert Wilson, 16-year-old New Orleans student who was returning from his home in Fort Worth, were the victims. The bodies, thrown clear of the wreckage, were brought here.

Three men were killed Sunday in a similar accident near Overton when their plane, lost in a fog, crashed into a tall pine.

Two Negro farmers told Marshall officers the motor of the New Orleans-bound plane sputtered before the crash as it was short of gasoline. Reports received last night from Fort Worth said the boy's mother, Mrs. E. H. Carlton, was in a serious condition from shock. R. R. Wilson, his father, left New Orleans for Marshall as soon as he learned of the crash.

The plane was flying the Wedell-Williams passenger line between Dallas and New Orleans.

Brown was widely known in the south as a pilot. He formerly flew planes for the Davis Air Lines between Atlanta, Ga., and Birmingham, Ala. Williams participated in Atlanta and Miami air races.

"EXPERIMENT FAILED"

Ada, Okla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Collapse of a wing on a plane described as experimental caused the death last night of Wayne Spencer, 21-year-old transport pilot, and Lee Davis of Ada, his passenger.

They were killed after a flight of about three miles. The crippled plane plunged 150 feet into a railroad embankment. Estel Henson, student, who was piloting another plane nearby, attributed the crash to breaking of a left wing strut.

Pilots said the ship, purchased from an Oklahoma City oil company, was one of only two of the type ever built.

Daily Health Talk

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

The speed of modern life is such as to drive human beings to their capacity of endurance. It seems doubtful that there is any complaint so frequently made as that of being tired.

Physicians have come to realize that fatigue creates physical disturbance in the body, sometimes difficult to evaluate. Fatigue may be the result not only of too much physical action but also of too much mental action.

Dr. W. R. P. Emerson emphasizes the fact that the human being is the only animal that does not rest when ever there is an opportunity. The adult may realize the need of rest and create rules for his conduct to provide it. The child may not realize the need of rest and the adult must make sure that he gets the rest that he requires.

Physicians recognize the difference between physical tiredness and nerve tiredness. There are some physiologic tests of muscle tiredness, but so far as is known the evaluation of nerve tiredness must be a psychologic evaluation. The person who is nerve tired is irritable, his judgement is not to be trusted, he becomes careless in walking and in driving, so that there are more accidents after four o'clock in the afternoon than in the early morning. The feeling of fatigue interferes with skill, with artistic appreciation, with attention, and with the ability to respond to stimulation.

The person who overdoes during the day is restless at night; he cannot sleep.

indigestion, pain in various parts of the body, an impaired memory and inability to concentrate.

Scientific medicine recognizes now that some people are dynamic and others sluggish. A dynamic individual drives himself to the point of exhaustion in an effort to accomplish his end. He reaches a state of exhaustion without realizing that he is tired.

The sluggish individual works on slowly and carefully and seems to be tired all the time. In an effort to establish the type, one may measure the basal metabolism, the vital capacity and study other physiologic reactions. Most important, however, is a study of the habits of the individual in order to determine his output of energy during an ordinary working day.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

ADOPT NEW SYSTEM

Rearrangement of the executive system of Blackhawk area council, to provide a more adequate method of directing Boy Scout activities, is announced by George C. Driesbach, Rockford scout official.

At the same time the council announced the start of a campaign to increase the total enrollment of the area by 700 scouts and the addition of at least 33 new troops. These plans, together with several other changes, were approved by executives.

Establishment of a commissioner system, facilitating the direction of the council's work, was approved and several men selected for offices in the five counties of the area.

Charles Oehler will continue as commissioner of the area, Mr. Driesbach said.

Select Local Commission

James E. Blue, Rockford high school principal, Marvin Gustafson and Clifford Pederson, local attorney, will fill the offices of district commissioners in the territory included in Rockford city limits.

There also will be district commissioners in Boone, Lee, Ogle and Whiteside counties. The Rev. Albert Whitcomb has been appointed commissioner for Lee county. After others are selected, meetings will be held in Dixon January 13 and Sterling January 20.

The area will be divided into three sections for the enrollment campaign. Quotas call for 12 more troops in Rockford, eight troops in Winnebago county outside of Rockford and Boone and Ogle counties, and 13 troops in the third district, comprising Lee and Whiteside counties. In addition, the area will seek to start 12 farm patrols, each made up of four boys living in rural sections. The enrollment campaign will be held in connection with rural scout activities.

Have Own Honor Courts

A new system of making awards will be started this year, each troop having a separate board of review and court of honor instead of county meetings. Scouts will be awarded advancement cards instead of badges and troops will be permitted to make all advancements up to the Eagle Scout rank.

Mr. Driesbach and his assistants, F. W. Schel enberger, A. V. Newman and Howard Swits, will attend a scout executive seminar Wednesday in Chicago.

Reach Agreement

On Muscle Shoals

Washington, Jan. 7—(AP)—The long standing deadlock between the House and Senate on Muscle Shoals legislation was broken today when the House conferees agree to government building of power transmission lines.

This was the major point in controversy between the two houses. Conferees said they believed it may open the way for final disposition at this session of the 10-year-old problem of what to do with the government's $150,000,000 power nitrate plant on the Tennessee river at Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

The agreement was reached when three of the five House conferees capitulated to the Senate demands for government construction of transmission lines from the power plant without further congressional action. The bill now goes to the House, where the big test will come on whether that branch will accept the terms. If the compromise passes the House, the question will be up to President Hoover.

Many members of Congress do not believe the President will sign the bill with provision for government construction of the power transmission lines, but the President has not made his position known.

Before the conference report is formally submitted to the House, the conferees must meet again to draft their agreement into writing.

Showfolks Figure

In Southern Trial

Natchez, Miss., Jan. 7—(AP)—There was much ado in Natchez today over the trial of a two-year-old lawsuit between showfolks, the contestants being Colonel Zack T. Miller, owner of the 101 Ranch Shows, and Tom Mix, the movie performer of two-gun fame.

Hearing of the suit is scheduled for tomorrow in Chancery Court of Adams county. Mix appeared here two years ago as a performer in the sells show, circus and Col. Miller filed a bill against him claiming $50,000 damages for violation of contract with the 101 Ranch shows.

Col. Miller already is here accompanied by his legal counsel, witnesses and guards. The Colonel said he brought the guards as a precautionary measure because some days ago an unidentified assailant fired on him in Oklahoma.

Mix was en route from Chicago by automobile. Both sides have engaged eminent counsel. Col. Miller said among his witnesses was the second wife of Mix who would testify against the cowboy-actor. Their marriage recently was dissolved by divorce.

Status Of Bergdoli

Case Is Unchanged

Washington, Jan. 7—(AP)—War Department officials said today there had been no arrangements which would change the status of Grover Cleveland Bergdoli as an escaped military prisoner.

The Department's statement followed reports that arrangements had been made whereby the draft evader could return.

Bergdoli still is considered an escaped prisoner and subject to immediate arrest, if he returns within the jurisdiction of American military authorities. Any change in his case, such as commutation of sentence or pardon, would not be considered by the Department until after Bergdoli is again in custody.

MUST STAND TRIAL

San Francisco, Jan. 7—(UP)—Judge Sylvain J. Lazarus today ruled that aged Yue Fook, Chinese houseboy, must stand trial in Superior Court for the murder of his mistress, Mrs. Rosetta Baker.

BIRTH CONTROL CONDEMNED BY POPE PIUS, XI

An Encyclical Emphasizing Sanctity Of Marriage Is Issued

Vatican City, Jan. 8—(UP)—The encyclical on modern social conditions, issued by Pope Pius, emphasizing the sanctity of marriage under the Christian doctrine, included:

Condemnation of birth control, seen as an indirect reply to the recent Anglican church conference limited sanction of birth control.

Reiteration of the church's condemnation of divorce.

Declaration that the wife should be subject to the husband without obeying unreasonable requirements.

An attack on use of "modern scientific inventions" to deride the sanctity of marriage.

The necessity for proper preparation of young people for marriage.

An expression of regret that state aid, which is provided "bountifully" for unmarried mothers and their children, is given sparingly to married mothers and their children.

Vatican City, Jan. 8—(AP)—Age-old Roman Catholic doctrines of marriage and divorce were reaffirmed and emphasized in an encyclical today by Pope Pius XI. Among practices of frustration which he scathingly condemned was birth control.

Referring to birth control, which bishops of the Anglican church endorsed under certain circumstances at the Lambeth Conference in London last summer, the Pontiff condemns all such practices as "against the law of God and nature."

The encyclical unequivocally calls abortion murder. The practice of sterilization of the physically unfit is proclaimed to be against the law of God. The Pontiff, the Pontiff says, should be dissuaded from marriage, but he maintains that the body of every man is sacred and that public magistrates can be given no power to harm the body's integrity except where a grave crime is concerned.

The Pontiff in explaining the purpose of the encyclical says that it is necessary "first of all that men's minds be illuminated with the true doctrine of Christ regarding it (marriage), and secondly, that Christian spouses, the weakness of their wills strengthened by the internal grace of God, shape all their ways of thinking and of acting in conformity with that pure law of Christ so as to obtain true peace and happiness for themselves and for their families."

"Marriages of God" Affirming that the laws of marriage are of God, "the author of nature, and by Christ our Lord by whom nature was redeemed," the encyclical declares: "These laws cannot be subject to any human decrees or to any contrary pact, even of the spouses themselves."

The words of St. Augustine are quoted to put forward that of all the blessings of marriage the child holds first place; St. Paul, the Pontiff said, "I wish young girls to marry x x x to beget children, to be mothers of families."

The second blessing of matrimony, the Pontiff says, is that of conjugal honor in the mutual fidelity of husband and wife, and the words of St. Augustine again are quoted that the marriage rights may not be denied by either of the parties to each other nor permitted to any third person.

The encyclical brands all those indulging in contraceptive practices "with the guilt of a craven sin." Any circumstances such as health or economic conditions do not constitute an excuse, he maintained.

In support of his assertions the Pontiff quoted St. Augustine, who in such cases called a woman "a mere mistress of her husband," and a man the paramour of his wife.

The encyclical proceeds to a discussion of divorce, quoting a number of ecclesiastical authorities in their development of "the word of the Lord: 'What God had joined together let no man put asunder.'"

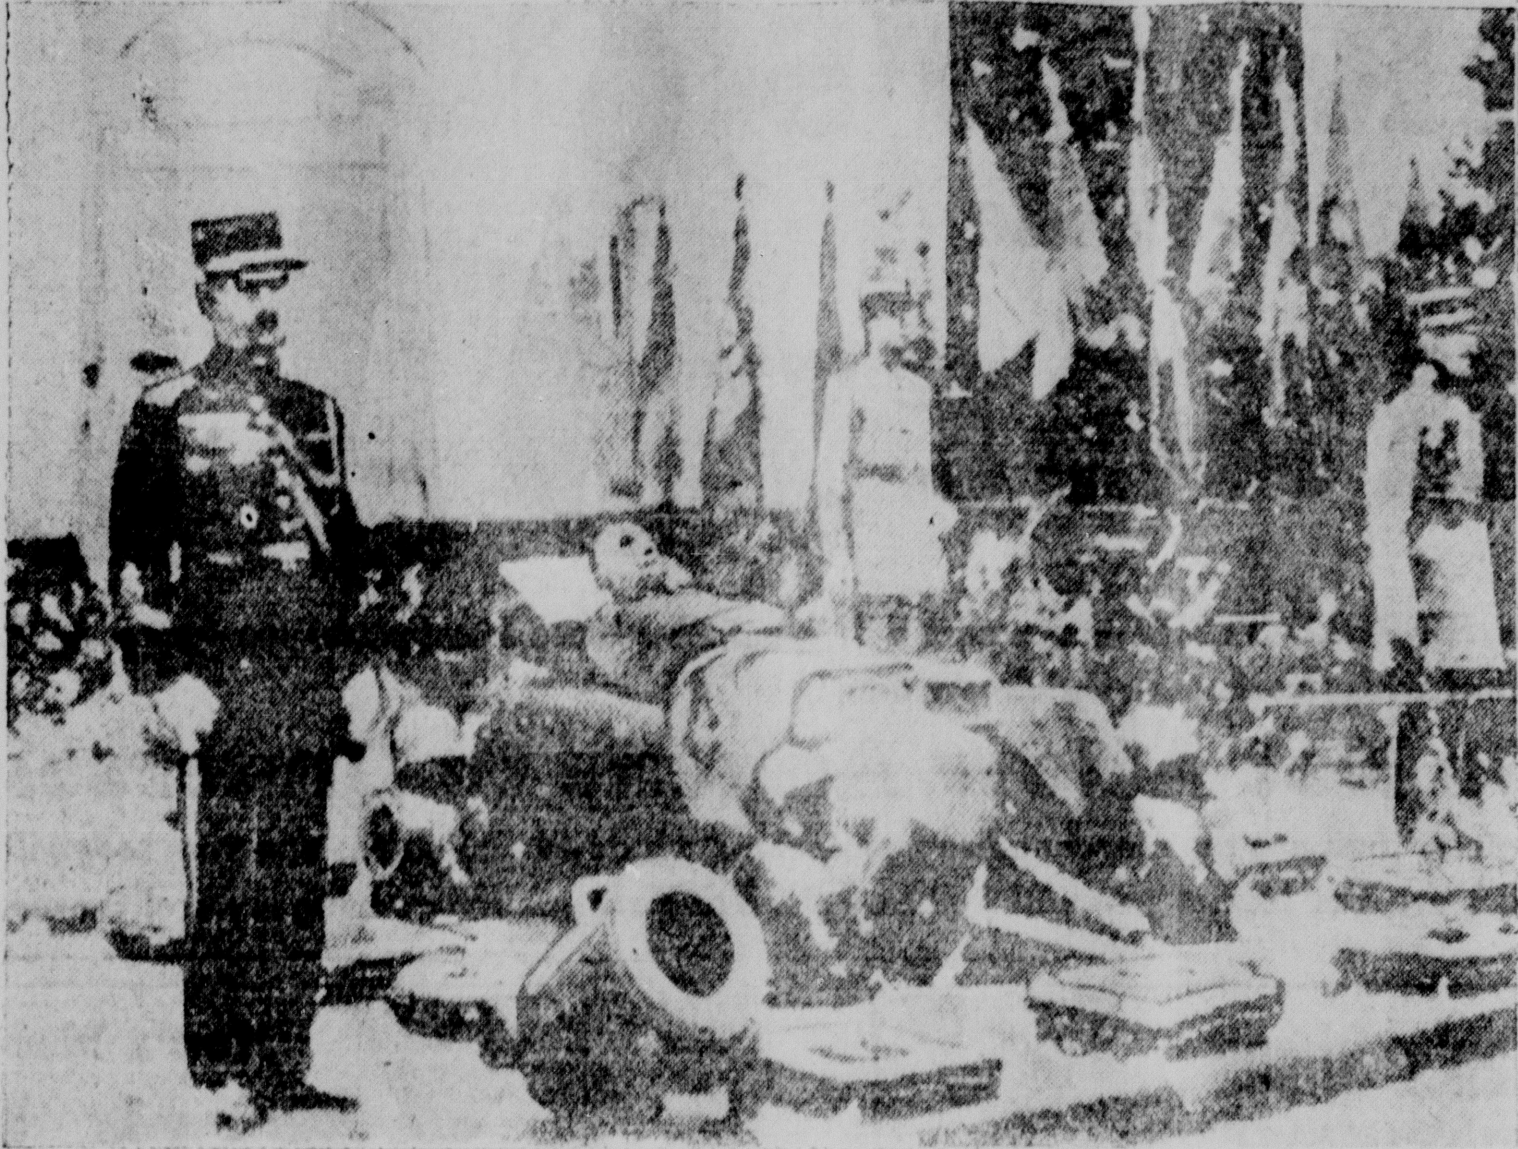

The encyclical sets forth lengthily Catholicism's teachings against divorce and as a principle remedy for many existing evils the Pontiff proposes fidelity to religious life on which alone can be built fidelity to the marital obligation and to traditional church teachings.

The encyclical asks adequate state laws touching upon the state and family, saying that the religious and civil powers should co-operate therein.

The Pope's advice to the young is "choose a partner well."

The encyclical contains 16,000 words and is dated December 31, 1930. Translations in English, Italian, French, German and Spanish were issued simultaneously with the original Latin text for the first time in the history of the Papacy.

Marshal Joffre's Body Lying in State

Here is the first picture to reach America showing the body of Marshal Joffre, hero of the Battle of the Marne, lying in state in the Ecole Militaire, Paris, surrounded by wreaths of tribute and a guard of honor. This picture was sent across the ocean by the Bartlane cable process, and was telephotoed from New York to Cleveland for speedy dispatch to this newspaper.

SLAYER UNDER ARREST SINCE DEC. 31, CLAIM

statement by showing absolute unconcern as dozens of photographers turned him about and reporters fired questions at him from all directions. He answered none of the questions.

Evidence Piled Up Evidence that Brothers was the slayer was in the hands of Swanson and Roche long before they ever saw Brothers, the officers said, and they were positive before they arrested him that he was the man they had sought so long.

Brothers was not armed when arrested, but a 45 calibre revolver was found in his room, Roche said.

Reporters were surprised when Swanson said Brothers was shot left-handed. The man who shot Lingle, dropped a revolver and a left glove as he ran from the pedestrian subway after the shooting and it generally had been accepted as fact that the slayer was a left-handed man.

Otherwise, Brothers' description tallies perfectly with that generally given of Lingle's slayer. He is a giant of a man, has sandy, curly hair, wears expensive clothes and has a "glint" in his eye, a feature to which witnesses called special attention.

Swanson said Brothers admitted he had not worked since coming to Chicago. The suspect denied, however, that he had participated in any robberies here, although admitting, Roche said, that he had been a gangster and robber in St. Louis. It was his record for being "tough," gained in St. Louis, that led to his being chosen as Lingle's executor, Swanson said.

Details of Murder The Lingle murder, most famous of all Chicago crimes, was committed on a hot summer afternoon as the $60 a week reporter, who earned $60,000 a year on the side as a racketeer, was boarding a train to go to the race track.

Newspapers at first called it a "challenge to the press," charging that Lingle, a police reporter, was killed by gangsters because he had uncovered some of their activities.

A special committee of three men, headed by Charles Rathbun, a Tribune attorney, was appointed by Swanson to investigate the crime.

The first thing this committee discovered was that Lingle had been a racketeer; that he had been a close friend of "Scarface" Al Capone, gang leader, and had had some strange power over certain police officials. A different light was thrown upon the murder.

Rewards totaling more than $55,000 were offered for information leading to arrest of the slayer. These rewards, Swanson said today, will not be paid, as no outside aid was received in capturing Brothers.

Then Came Zuta Murder A few months after Lingle was slain, Jack Zuta, a northside gang leader, was killed. In secret vaults police found Zuta's gang records.

disclosing police-politico-gangster alliances and that the gangs of Chicago had profited to the extent of millions of dollars in racket and the beer business. The discoveries led to the most extensive drive against crime ever made here.

A theory that Zuta had paid to have Lingle slain because Lingle had interfered in his gang business and that Zuta had been slain in reprisal became generally accepted. Swanson refused today to disclose why he believed Brothers had killed Lingle or to comment upon any possible connection with the Zuta slaying.

Brothers, caught unawares, submitted without struggle despite his reputation as a "tough one." Roche told the reporters. As he stepped from his room Roche said, an officer jumped from the girl's room across the hall, pinioned Brother's arms and called upon him to surrender.

Brothers is not the first man arrested for the Lingle murder, but he is the first whom authorities have agreed was the actual slayer.

Among the others charged at one time or another with the slaying were Frank Foster, who was accused of once owning the gun with which Lingle was slain, and Theodore Gelsking, an Indiana gangster. Both were cleared of the charges.

Another gangster, Frank Bell, once confessed he had participated in the killing. Police later determined that he had made the "confession" in an attempt to escape punishment for another murder.

HAS LONG RECORD St. Louis, Jan. 8—(UP)—Leo Brothers, St. Louis gangster who has been identified in Chicago as the slayer of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Chicago Tribune police reporter, has a long record here.

Brothers has been arrested 66 times here. He never was convicted, however. He left here after he was named as the slayer of John De Biasi, 20-year-old service cab driver, after a quarrel during which Brothers was said to have attempted to extort money from De Biasi.

Police said Brothers was a pal of Leo Orlando, St. Louis gangster who was found shot to death on the highway north of here with Isadore Katz, another gangster, yesterday.

Brothers is 31 years old, although he looks younger. He is married and has a daughter. Mrs. Brothers and the daughter live in St. Louis. His mother, the wife of Robert Jensen, lives at Webster Groves, Mo.

Born in Belleville, educated in St. Louis as far as the seventh grade, he was a messenger boy, window trimmer and taxi driver before joining the navy in 1917, for two years' service aboard a submarine.

He returned to St. Louis and lived at home until his mother remarried in 1926. The next year, in July, 1929, he came to police attention in connection with the murder of De

The torped-like fenders, and rear give the car a further appearance of speed and snap.

Robinson Joins In Fight On Commish.

Washington, Jan. 7—(UP)—Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the Senate, today assumed leadership of the fight to remove three members of the new Federal Power Commission.

His action lends strength to the move to oust President Hoover's appointees whom liberals in Congress consider friendly to the so-called "power interests." If the rest of the Democrats follow his lead, passage of a motion to reconsider the confirmations of Commissioners George Otis Smith, Marcel Garsaud and Claude L. Draper would be likely.

The Industrial Basketball League resumed schedule play last evening on the Moose hall floor, three very good games being played but the attendance being very small. The floor had been treated to a coat of wax preparation recently and several of the players performed unheeded of tricks on the slippery surface. Krug, Place and Blackburn were among the worst injured of the evening, the latter being taken from the floor while the others rested and went back into the game.

Probably the hardest fought game of the evening and the greatest upset of the dope, was the final contest in which the American Cab & Body Co., grabbed the game away from the I. N. U. team by a margin of one point at the final whistle. Scott was responsible for three of the field throws, Underwood and Bremer being responsible for the other pair. The Utilities five held the Cab crew scoreless without a count in the first quarter, but in the second the Cabs ran up six points in quick succession and the Utilities were held with the two points they had secured in the first period. The Cabs continued to hold the lead until the finish. Hilliker was the only member of the Utilities crew who could locate the hoop and he was responsible for three field throws and a foul toss for seven points. Schertner getting the other two on free throws.

The lineups:—
American Cab & Body Co.—Scott, Underwood, forwards; Wilson, center; Blackburn, Buzzard and Bremer, guards.
I. N. U. Co.—Hilliker, Schertner, forwards; Mercer, center; Glassburn, Krug, guards.

Reynolds in Lead
The victory of the Reynolds Wire Company over the Dixon Battery Shop was decisive by a count of 28 to 11. Johnson at forward position scored 17 points for the wire weavers, eight field goals and a free toss. Both teams were tied at the close of the first quarter and then the Reynolds started in their customary stride and at the half the count stood 20 to 9. This continued to pile up in the last half of the game. The lineups:—

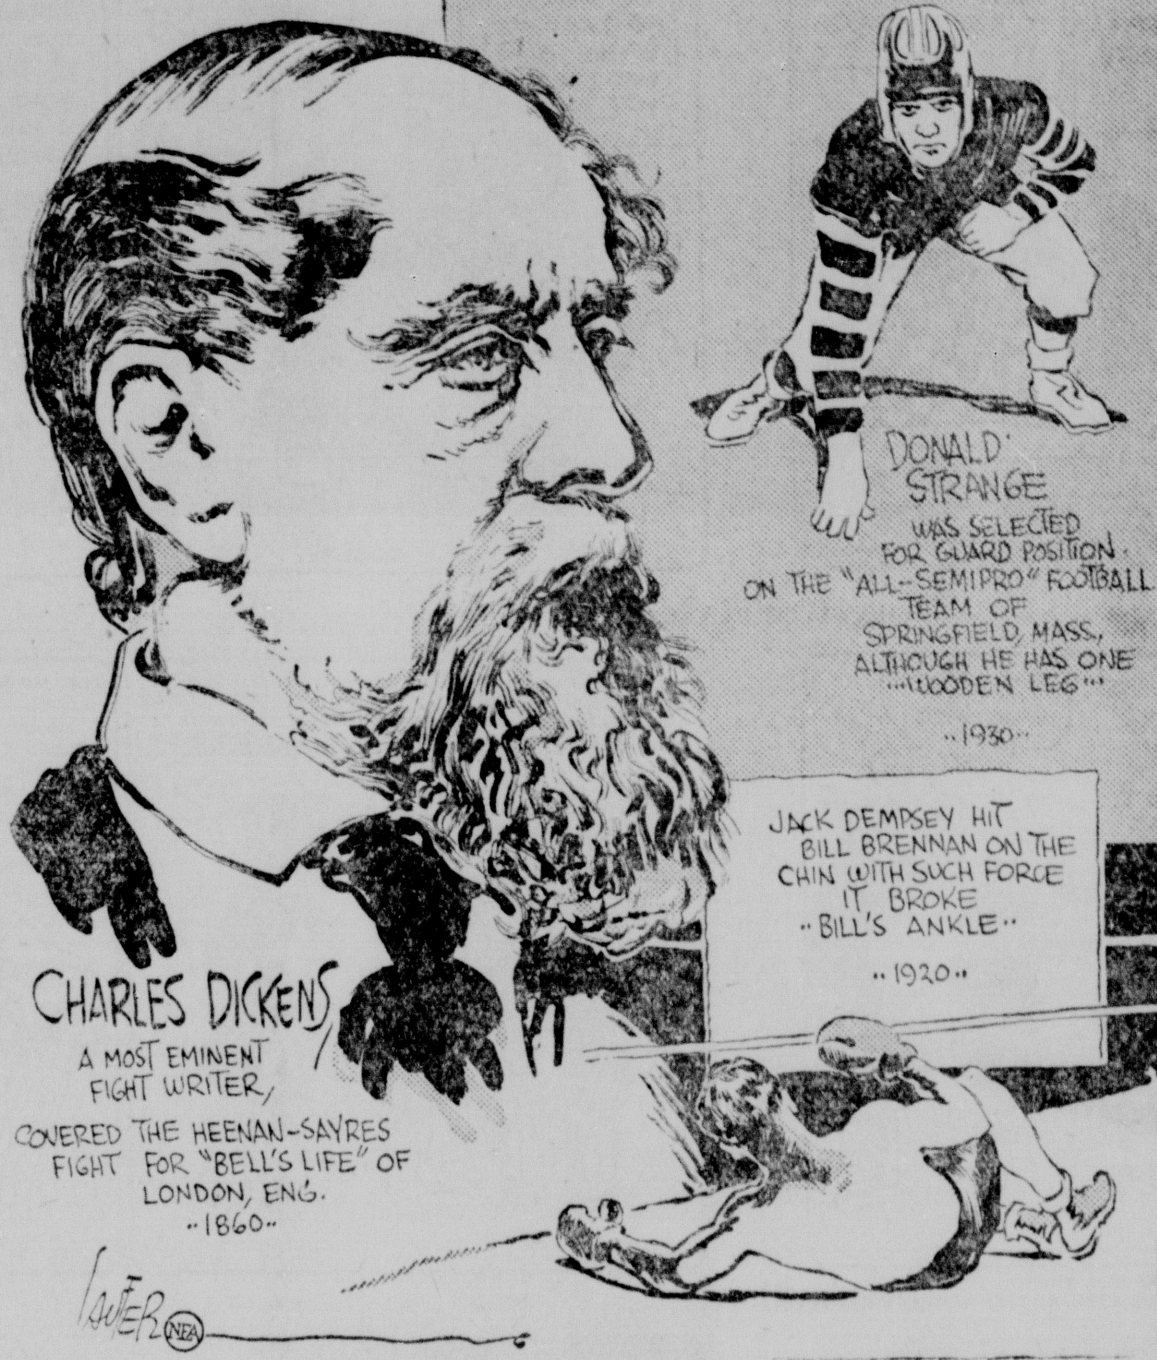

Reynolds Wire Co.—Johnson, C. Six, Haye, forwards; Joyce, Stutcher, center; O. Six, Means, M. Six, guards.
Dixon Battery Shop—Wickey, McCurdie, Kuhn, Place, forwards; Detweiler, center; Whitcombe, Jones, Dockery, guards.

Merchants Beat Hospital
The Merchants had no difficulty in walkin away with a clean win over the Dixon State Hospital five in the opening game of the schedule, the final count being 23 to 9. Pontius led the scoring for the Merchants with five field baskets in the second half and two free throws in the opening period. Broughton at center for the state hospital crew scored seven of the nine points for his team on three field baskets and a foul throw. The lineup:—
Merchants—Pitney, Pontius, forwards; Roundy, Suter, center; Vorhis, Suter, Sproul, guards.
Dixon State Hospital—B. Bollman, Rusk, Wimpelberg, forwards; Bough-ton, center; E. Bollman, Siddens, guards.

GIRLS DEFEATED
HOUSE OF DAVID
CAGERS LAST EVEChicago Basketball Is Enlivened By Unusual
Contest

By DIXON STEWART

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Captain Clay (Mud) Williams and his House of David basketball team was down-cast today because of their 18 to 9 defeat last night by a team composed of Chicago girls.

They were scheduled to meet the same team—the Taylor Trunk Girls—again Sunday night and realize that they need something more than their present playing ability if they are to win.

The sight of a team of pretty bob-haired girls "making monkeys" of a men's basketball team was a unique spectacle and 5,000 Chicago fans who jammed Broadway Armory to witness the game roared with merriment at the discomfort of the long-haired and bearded House of David quintet.

The game, featuring a national championship women's team against a quintet of men players, some of whom wore waist-long hair streaming down their back, provided a sport "natural" much like the "bloomer girl" baseball games of former days.

Except for their flowing beards and lack of beauty the House of David players looked more like women than did the girls. The girls, petite bobby-haired youngsters, played with the skill usually attributed to men players and entirely outclassed the long haired athletes.

Started "Rough Stuff"
The girls made no bid for gentle treatment and asked no odds of their male opponents. There was no hair-pulling in the game, but it was far from a gentle contest and truth to tell it was the girls who initiated the rough tactics.

Captain Williams and his mates apparently thought they had an easy victim and started out to take things easy. After being bumped, shoved and roughed about during the first quarter, in which the girls gained a 6 to 0 lead, the House of David boys settled down to make a fight for it. They resorted to a few rough tactics on their own hook but soon found the girls could more than hold their own at scrapping and were content to play basketball without roughing things up.

John Tucker, lanky center, was the first to learn that the girls were bad medicine when they got rough. John was outjumping his female rival, Violet Kruback but he was not content with that and when Violet got the ball he attempted to take it away from her. Violet hung on, tussled for possession and finally threw Tucker off his feet. John was knocked out and needed an application of cold water before he was able to resume play. After that the boys decided it was unwise to attempt rough action.

Attendant Falls In Love With Incurable Patient

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 8.—(UP)—The love of Charlotte Dessauer, 24, a patient at the home for incurables here, for a man known as "William" was darkened today by the memory of a romance that failed.

Miss Dessauer, who is a victim of infantile paralysis and cannot walk, was placed in the institution several months ago by her aunt, Mrs. Charles Barlinger of Detroit. She immediately fell in love with "William", who was an attendant at the institution.

William, who was described as being 53 years old and handsome, paid much attention to Miss Dessauer. In fact he paid so much attention to the patient that he was discharged on Dec. 30. Love, stronger than duty, promoted him to disregard previous warnings.

But William persisted. Last Friday night he came to see Miss Dessauer. He entered the building through the basement and was discovered by Miss Drusilla Schenk, the Superintendent. He ran and escaped.

Yesterday the Superintendent sensed an incipient romance. The patient was unusually cheerful and sang frequently. She asked that her window be left open. So Miss Schenk kept watch.

Shortly after 1 A. M. today her vigil was rewarded. An automobile came up the drive. William stepped from the car and unloaded the implements by which he hoped to capture the girl—a long ladder and a clothes basket.

Stealthily he moved across the lawn, ladder in one hand and basket in the other. Apparently the waiting Superintendent made a tell-tale move for William stopped, suddenly dropped his romantic gadgets and ran. He leaped into his metal steed and was seen no more. Miss Dessauer wept.

Police said that William was married and had two children. He will be arrested if he continues to come to the institution, they declared. His home was said to be in Akron, O.

Fighting for Chicago Mayoralty

These men are the leading figures in what promises to be one of the bitterest and most involved mayoralty campaigns Chicago has had in years. Four candidates have filed for the Republican nomination while the Democrats are united on one. The Republican primary election on Feb. 24 will find Mayor William Hale Thompson (No. 1) opposed by these candidates: No. 2, Charles V. Barrett; No. 3, Alderman Albert F. Albert, and No. 4, Judge John H. Lyle. No. 5 is the lone Democratic candidate, Anton J. Cermak.

A Kiss for a Kidnaped Boy

Relatives of little Adolphus Busch Orthwein of St. Louis, who was kidnaped by a negro prowler and then released unharmed 20 hours later, are so overjoyed at the boy's return that they have indicated they will not attempt any prosecution; and this photo shows a bit of the family rejoicing. The kidnaped boy (at the left) is getting a brotherly kiss of greeting from his younger brother, Jimmy.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR DUNDEE believes that JEANETTE SELIM and DEXTER SPRAGUE were murdered by a blackmail victim, while the police theory is that they were killed to avenge a racketeer whom Nita Leigh had betrayed.

Of Dundee's six possible suspects—JUDGE MILES, owner of the death warrant; POLLY HALE and CLIVE HAMMOND, who married suddenly after Sprague's death; JOHN DRAKE, JANET HAYMOND, to love with Sprague, and FLORA MILES—his case is strongest against Nita Leigh.

He thinks it possible she killed Nita in desperation, and that TRACY MILES killed Sprague to protect Flora from a charge of blackmail. In New York, Dundee learns that there are rumors of scandals involving Flora and Janet, which Nita might have known. From SERENA HART, since star and graduate of the Forsyte School, which these girls attended and where Nita, on Serena's recommendation, directed the Easter play, he learns that Nita was married early in 1918, and that the dress in which she was cremated was her wedding dress, as he suspected. Nita was quickly desecrated, but not divorced, Serena says that a picture of Nita was printed accidentally in a story about NITA LEIGH.

Dundee is about to leave, when Serena asks him if he knows PENNY CRAIN, saying that she met her and ROGER CRAIN, who later failed in business and disappeared, at the Forsyte School. Dundee impulsively tells Serena that Penny and her mother would like to have Crain back again. After visiting Penny, Dundee learns that on the night of February, when Nita tried to kill herself, Sprague was rumored, engaged, but that a denial was printed two days later. He receives an answer to his wire to Penny.

TO Serena Hart, former member of New York's Junior League and still listed in the Social Register, had found Nita the only congenial member of the chorus she had invaded as the first step toward stardom. Finally, Ralph Hammond had loved Nita and wanted to marry her.

Had Nita planned to commit the crime of bigamy? If not, when and where and how had she secured a divorce?

And so far as New York reporters had been able to find out, Nita Leigh had done nothing to alter her status as a married woman during the past year. Moreover, if Nita had secured either a divorce or a legal separation, her maid, Lydia Carr, would certainly have known of it. And Lydia had vehemently protested more than once to Bonnie Dundee that she knew nothing of Nita's husband, although she had worked for the musical comedy dancer for five years. Surely if Nita, loving and trusting Lydia as she did, had entered into negotiations of any kind with or concerning her husband during the last year, her maid would have been the first to know of them.

And yet—

Suddenly Dundee jumped to his feet and began to pace the floor of his hotel bedroom. He was remembering the belated confidence that John C. Drake, banker, had made to him the morning before—after the discovery of Dexter Sprague's murder. He recalled Drake's reluctant statement almost word for word:

"About that $10,000 which Nita deposited with our bank, Dundee. . . . When she made the first deposit of $5000 on April 28, she explained it with an embarrassed laugh as 'back alimony,' an installment of which she had succeeded in collecting from her former husband. And, naturally, when she made the second deposit on May 5, I presumed the same explanation covered that sum, too, though I confess I was puzzled by the fact that both big deposits had been made in cash."

In cash!

Had Nita, by any chance, been telling a near-truth? Had she been blackmailing her own husband—a husband who had dared marry again, believing his deserted wife to be dead—and justifying herself by calling it "back alimony"?

But—wasn't it, in reality, no matter what coercion Nita had used in getting the money, exactly that? . . . Back alimony! And the price of her silence before the world and the wife who was not really a wife?

In a new light, Bonnie Dundee studied the character of the woman who had been murdered—possibly to make her silence eternal.

LOIS DUNLAP had liked, even loved her. The other woman and girls of that exclusive, self-centered clique of Hamilton's most socially prominent women must have liked her fairly well and found her congenial, in spite of their jealousy of her popularity with the men of the crowd, or they would not have tolerated her, regardless of Lois Dunlap's champion ship of her protegee.

Serena Hart, former member of New York's Junior League and still listed in the Social Register, had found Nita the only congenial member of the chorus she had invaded as the first step toward stardom.

Finally, Ralph Hammond had loved Nita and wanted to marry her.

Was it possible that Nita Selim's only crime, into which she had been led by her infatuation for Dexter Sprague, had been to demand, secretly, financial compensation from a husband who had married and deserted her, a husband who, believing her dead, had married again?

But who was the man whose picture—to spin a new theory—Nita had recognized as that of her husband among the male members of the cast of "The Beggar's Opera" when Lois Dunlap had proudly exhibited the pictures of that amateur performance?

With excitement hammering at his pulses, Dundee took the bunch of photographs which Lois Dunlap had willingly given him, and studied the picture that contained the entire cast—the picture which had first attracted Nita's attention. And again despair overwhelmed him, for every one of his possible male suspects was in that group. . . .

But he could not keep his thoughts from racing on. . . . Men who stepped out of their class and went on parties with chorus girls frequently did so under assumed names, he reflected. Serena Hart was authority for the information that Nita's had been a sudden marriage. Was it not entirely possible that the man who married Nita in 1918 had done so half drunk, both on liquor and infatuation, and that he had not troubled to explain to Nita his motives for having used an assumed name or to write in his real name on the application for a marriage license? Had Nita's private detective journeyed out to Hamilton in a fruitless attempt to locate "Matthew Selim"?

Bonnie Dundee lay awake for hours Friday night turning these and a hundred other questions over and over in his too-active mind, and slept at last, only to awake Saturday with a plan of procedure which he was sensible enough to realize promised small chance of success.

AND he was right. Not in Manhattan, or in any of the other boroughs of New York City, did he find any record of a marriage license issued to Juanita Leigh and Matthew Selim.

When he gave up his quest at noon Saturday and returned to his hotel, he bought at the newsstand a paper whose headline informed him that Sergeant Turner was, at that moment, even more discouraged than himself. For the big type told the world:

JOE SAVELLI "GETS" BROTHER'S SLAYER.

And smaller headlines informed the sensation-loving public: "SWALLOW TAIL SAMMY" SAVELLI'S DEATH AVENGED BY BROTHER WHO SURRENDERS TO POLICE; "SLICK" THOMPSON, ALLEGED MEMBER OF SAMMY'S GANG, SHOT TO DEATH ON SIXTH AVENUE.

Still smaller type acknowledged that Joe Savelli, after giving himself up with a revolver in his hand, had disclosed any knowledge of or connection with the murders of Juanita Leigh Selim and Dexter Sprague.

Two hours later, Dundee received a long telegram from District Attorney Sanderson:

INFORMED BY EVENING SUN AND CAPTAIN STRAWN THAT SAVELLI ANGLE IS COMPLETE WASHOUT STOP HAVE YOU MADE ANY PROGRESS ALONG OTHER LINES STOP HAVE INFORMED REPORTERS YOU WORKING IN DEPENDENTLY WITH STRONG CHANCE OF SOLVING BOTH CASES STOP WOULD LIKE YOU HERE FOR ADJOURNED INQUESTS ON BOTH MURDERS MONDAY STOP MOTHER IMPROVED AM ON JOB AGAIN.

Since Dundee felt that there was little chance of following through either on the scandals which Gladys Earle had hinted at, or on Nita's strangely secret marriage of 12 years before, he immediately dispatched a wire to Sanderson, assuring him that vital progress had been made and that he would leave New York on the four o'clock train west, arriving in Hamilton Sunday morning at 8:50.

Sanderson's wire, with its confession of an interview on Dundee's trip to New York, had upset him and left him with a cold feeling of fear that, stumbling half in darkness, the district attorney had unwittingly warned the murderer of Nita Selim and Dexter Sprague that his special investigator was on the right track.

An hour before he reached his destination on Sunday morning he went into the dining car and found a copy of The Hamilton Morning News beside his plate. And on the front page was a photograph of dead Nita, her black hair in a French roll, her slim, recumbent body clad in the royal blue velvet dress. Beneath the picture was the caption:

"What part does the outmoded royal blue velvet frock which Nita Selim chose as a shroud play in the solution of her murder? That is the question which Special Investigator Dundee, attached to the district attorney's office, and due home this morning from fruitful detective work in New York, is undoubtedly prepared to answer."

Dundee was still seething with futile rage when he climbed the stairs to his apartment. On the living room floor, touching the door, he found an envelope—unstamped and bearing his name written on a typewriter.

POLITICS SEEN AS THREAT TO ARMS MEETING

The Delegates Must Solve World Problems To Gain Success

BY JOSEPH H. BAIRD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 8.—(UP)—The political problems which have vexed the world since the Versailles treaty made the map of Europe, must be solved, in part, at least, before the world can abandon its arms, observers here believe.

Regardless of the success of technical experts in working out reduction formulas for use at the proposed world disarmament conference in 1932, these will be futile unless there is a will to peace. Hence diplomatic negotiations of 1931 it is believed, must be directed toward removing causes of suspicion and ill-will.

Broadly viewed the creation of a lasting peace rests on a three-fold formula: security, disarmament, arbitration. The question which the nations must settle is which of these steps shall be taken first. Without security, say France and some other countries, there can be no disarmament. In other quarters, the reverse of this is quoted: without disarmament there can be no security.

French Thesis
Some statesmen, agreeing with the French thesis, believe security, and later disarmament, can be achieved by treaties binding the nations to consult in the event of trouble. France sought such an agreement at the London Naval Conference. The United States shied at the proposal, holding it implied the use of force by the signatory nations. Administration quarters have indicated this country might enter such an agreement if it were clearly stated the obligation was only to consult, not to fight.

Thus far, no such pact is in sight. Taking a practical view of the coming conference, observers point to a number of danger points on the European map, the existence of which will impede disarmament.

First, there is a Polish corridor. Under the post-war settlement, Poland was given a long strip of territory through Germany in order to reach the sea. This grant cuts off East Prussia from the rest of Germany. It is as though Canada owned a narrow strip from her southern border to the Gulf of Mexico, separating the eastern and western parts of the United States. Germany considers this condition insufferable.

Minority Problem
The minorities problem in Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, new nations carved out of the old Austro-Hungarian empire, is another source of friction.

There is tension between France and Italy. This is caused not only by naval rivalry, but by apparently conflicting aims in North Africa and by Italian resentment over anti-fascist plots hatched in France by ex-patriots.

Finally, there come rumors, yet unconfirmed, of new European combinations which may divide Europe into two armed camps, as did the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente.

On the brighter side of the picture, American observers see a vast improvement in the attitude of nations toward each other around the council tables at Geneva. They find room for optimism too, in the fact that the three largest naval powers apparently have abandoned competition.

George Orner is president of another business men's social group which has club rooms in the Bain building.

Among the recent business conducted at the city hall is the issuing of instructions to City Clerk R. L. ## $70,000 Taken From Bank's Safety Boxes

Chicago, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The loss to safety deposit box owners in the mysterious looting of the Lawrence Avenue National Bank vault on New Year's Day probably will exceed $70,000, it was estimated today by federal bank examiners.

John E. Malloy, assistant cashier, is under $75,000 bond on charges of embezzlement in connection with the closing of the bank, the only national bank closed in this district in 25 years.

Malloy contended that four bandits, posing as examiners, called him to the bank Jan. 1, looted the vault, then forced him to set the time lock so the vault could not be opened for 48 hours. Authorities were puzzled because the bandits took several ledger sheets from the bank's records.

George Pilot, president and Darby Day, chairman of the Board of Directors predicted yesterday the bank would be found solvent and that depositors would lose nothing.

Forger, Sans Hands, Sentenced To Jail

Chicago, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Frank Greissmayer, 40, who has no hands, began serving a jail sentence today for forgery.

"But how could I be guilty when I have no hands to write with?" Greissmayer protested when arrested on a charge of obtaining a $700 loan from a finance company by forging a relative's name to a note.

An Assistant State's Attorney interrupted to introduce evidence that Greissmayer was convicted two years ago of a similar charge.

ABE MARTIN

"I don't know nothing about relativity, but I can give Einstein cards an' spades on relatives," says Abe Martin. Al Moots has come out for light beer an' wine as he says lots o' times a feller 'll pay his grocery bill if he's been drinkin'.

The defendant then pleaded guilty and entertained the judge with an exhibition of writing while holding the pen between his teeth.

If you have anything whatsoever to sell try a classified ad in the Dixon Telegraph. 25 words will cost 50c.

Shipping Board To Back Grace Lines

Washington, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The United States Shipping Board today awarded a $12,285,000 construction loan to the Grace Lines of New York. The fund will be used for construction of four passenger-freight vessels to be put in service between New York, Central America and San Francisco by the Panama Mail Line, Grace subsidiary.

A $17,000,000 contract for construction of the new ship was awarded several days ago to the Federal Ship Building Company of Kearney, N. J. It is estimated that the work will provide employment for between 2,000 and 3,000 men in New York City area for approximately two years.

To Remove Rabbis' Ban On Poultry

Chicago, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Poultry will be removed from the forbidden list for orthodox Jews tomorrow when the Shochetim, the union of kosher poultry killers, will resume its stand with the Kehillah, the Rabbinical ruling board, after a ten-day severance over charges of union racketeering.

The union has installed new officers, yielding to the Rabbis' objections to the former organization and promising to abide by the Mosaic law which requires that all schachets be examined periodically.

Asks Police Search For Gangster Hubby

Chicago, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Miss Dorothy White asked police today to search for her husband, Herman, 29, who, she says, turned gangster after his restaurant at 22nd and Michigan, near "Scarface Al" Capone's headquarters, was closed for prohibition violation.

White has not been seen since Dec. 29, she said, and he may have been assassinated by rival gangsters. After his restaurant was closed, police learned, Witte became associated with Sam Guzik's liquor and gambling rackets.
